Brown and Browning are pleased to present to you this photo of Walt:

The eight sculptures in this show were made in the month of Walt Whitman's birth, in 2014.

Everett Brown, a Dallas native, and Rachael Browning, a Chicago native, met when they were freshmen at the Cooper Union. They began working together while sharing a studio together in a windowless basement in Bushwick. They now make work at their studio in Red Hook. It has 17 windows.
