Jonathan DeDecker & Jonathan Edelhuber

Marvin Gardens is pleased to present JONATHAN², a two-person painting show in our exterior yard space. Continuing our summer theme of bringing together friends within our community, this show also brings together -as the title suggests- two artists who share the same given name. Jonathan DeDecker and Jonathan Edelhuber each present 2 graphically charged figurative paintings. All four works share expressive surfaces of varied textures and techniques for which these two artists are known. Edelhuber's tondo panels grin from the walls as part talisman and part facial masks of humanoid beings, while DeDecker's canvases equally carry a charged weight in their graphic presence, and lend an appropriate feel of street-art, especially as combined with the varied outdoor wall textures.
